EVENTS TO-DAY.

R. W. Schroeder of Dayton, holder of the world's record for airplane altitude, plans a ten hour flight from San Francisco to New York late this summer, flying at a height of 30,000 feet, which, he says, will permit him to attain 350 to 400 miles an hour.

Schroeder, who made a record breaking flight February 26, reaching an altitude of 36,130 feet, in an address to the members of the Glenn Martin Club today, said he would fly from the Pacific to the Atlantic coast between "sun up and sundown."
